

THE EARLY YEARS VALUE PACKS

Innovative Resources has created four value packs bursting with original, colourful, fun-filled card packs, books and tactile resources for building social and emotional literacy in the early years.

RESPECTFUL RELATIONSHIPS

SCHOOL READINESS FUNDING? YES, WE ARE ON THE MENU OF REGISTERED SUPPLIERS.

Making friends comes absolutely naturally to many children. But even young children may find forming friendships a highly complex business, overlaid with social rules and expectations. The resources in this pack will help children to develop respectful, inclusive relationships, build friendships and value others and includes:

VALUE PACK CONTENTS:

- Cars 'R' Us (cards)
- The Wrong Stone (picture book)
- Can-Do Dinosaurs (cards)
- Pocket of Stones (tactile)
- Funky Fish Feelings (cards)
- Mates Traits (cards and colouring book)
- Stones... Have Feelings Too! (stickers)

MANAGING FEELINGS

Learning to recognise and manage our feelings is the heart of emotional learning. This pack has been curated to help children develop these essential skills with resources that focus on emotions, strengths and body signals. Fabulous animal characters that children love are a feature of this pack which includes:

CAT NO: 1123 RRP: $275.00 (SAVE $48.75)

ONLINE WORKSHOP: TOOLS FOR BUILDING SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL LITERACY IN THE EARLY YEARS

In this highly-engaging workshop, delivered over four 90 minute sessions (or timed to suit), we explore diverse range of original resources developed especially for building social and emotional literacy in children. The resources are tools for generating change and strategies to encourage children to recognise body signals, sooth worry and anxiety, build strengths and resilience, navigate and regulate emotions, build respectful relationships, and challenge gender stereotypes.

Participants will:

explore tools for teaching children to recognise and talk about body signals and feelings discover how body signals can be used to help teach children protective behaviours learn some simple, fun activities children can do to self-soothe worry or anxiety learn core strengths-based, solution-focused practice principles and skills to support your work with young children.

Your Facilitator:

Our training is provided by Alison Krusec. With over 30 years' experience working with children and families in a range of settings, Alison is the ideal person to support your team in building their social and emotional literacy toolkit, and can tailor training around the needs of your centre.

TELL A TRUSTED ADULT

Cards and lesson plans for teaching children to recognise body signals and be safe

Using beautiful, gentle artwork, Tell a Trusted Adult is a resource created by experienced educators, Sharon Hynes and Kat Meda, to help teachers explore the challenging topic of child safety in simple, fun and respectful ways. An important aspect of teaching child safety and empowering children to stay safe is helping them to recognise their body signals. This set includes 13 pairs of cards showing different body signals and associated emotions. And most importantly, children learn this key message – tell a trusted adult when you feel unsafe, anxious or worried. The card set also includes 9 activity cards and a comprehensive booklet. Both the activity cards and the booklet include a huge range of activities that you can use immediately with children.

SELF-CARE CARDS

Exquisite cards for exploring and practicing self-care

We can't look after others if we don't know how to look after ourselves. These beautifully illustrated cards encourage the art of 'noticing' – noticing how you're doing, what you're feeling, what your own insights are revealing about what's working well and what to do differently to support self-care. Great for staff meetings, supporting colleagues and professional development.

STICKERS

Add to the experience with a sticker!
Stickers may be little, but they can say a lot.

Kids love stickers. Stickers are fun, versatile and tactile. They are a great tool for children beginning to develop their vocabulary for recognising and speaking about emotions and body signals.

We have doubled the number of stickers in packs! So now you can have twice the fun talking to kids about their strengths and feelings. They are also portable so you can take them anywhere, making them easy to whip out to do a quick activity or have some fun on the fly.
